

First Conditional

GGAT Konsultacje z Języka Angielskiego Grzegorz Dutkiewicz www.eltcggat.com.pl

Name: _____

Date: __/__/20__

1. If you wish to talk together, I 'll go out. (wish) (go out)
2. If you choose to compromise, I will endeavor to have it done for you, on the best terms we can. (choose) (endeavor)
3. If you return to France, let the consequence be what it may, I will go with you. (return) (go)
4. If you do not hear me now, you will regret it all your life. (not/hear) (regret)
5. If you support me I 'll support you. (support) (support)
6. But if we really need it, we will come to you; for you are a true friend. (need) (come)
7. You have the stuff of three poets in you; but before you can reach your public, you will have time to die of starvation six times over, if you intend to live on the proceeds of your poetry, that is. (have) (intend)
8. If you hurry you 'll get to the house before she does. (hurry) (get)
9. I 'll admit it's what I'd like, if you do. (admit) (do)
10. If you send me to the cells I will kill him. (send) (kill)
11. After a while, if you stay here long enough, you 'll know all about it. (stay) (know)
12. And if you look at her body, you will see two scars on it. (look) (see)
13. He 'll believe anything if he is really fond of you, as I suppose he must be. (believe) (be)
14. If he loves me, he will understand how to win me. (love) (understand)

15. If you do, it will be from no fault of mine. (do) (be)

16. If you try to keep the discovery to yourselves, you will continue to live a life of shifts and chicanery. (try) (continue)

17. If I want her to go up there, I 'll tell her so. (want) (tell)

18. She won't be very hard upon us if you confess everything. (not/be) (confess)

19. I don't blame any man looking out for himself, tell them, for that's human nature; but if they think they're going to come any of their native ideas over me, they 'll find themselves mistaken. (think) (find)

20. If he fails in his siege, I do really believe he will die early; not of a broken heart, exactly, but of a heart starved, with the food it was craving close to it, but unattainable. (fail) (die)